ELEVATED COMMUNITY & COLLABORATION

At Gifted Travel Network, we believe a rising tide lifts all boats. That is why we pour our hearts and souls into cultivating a community that fosters collaboration instead of competition. Members in our network come from a broad spectrum of backgrounds, prior careers, and history.

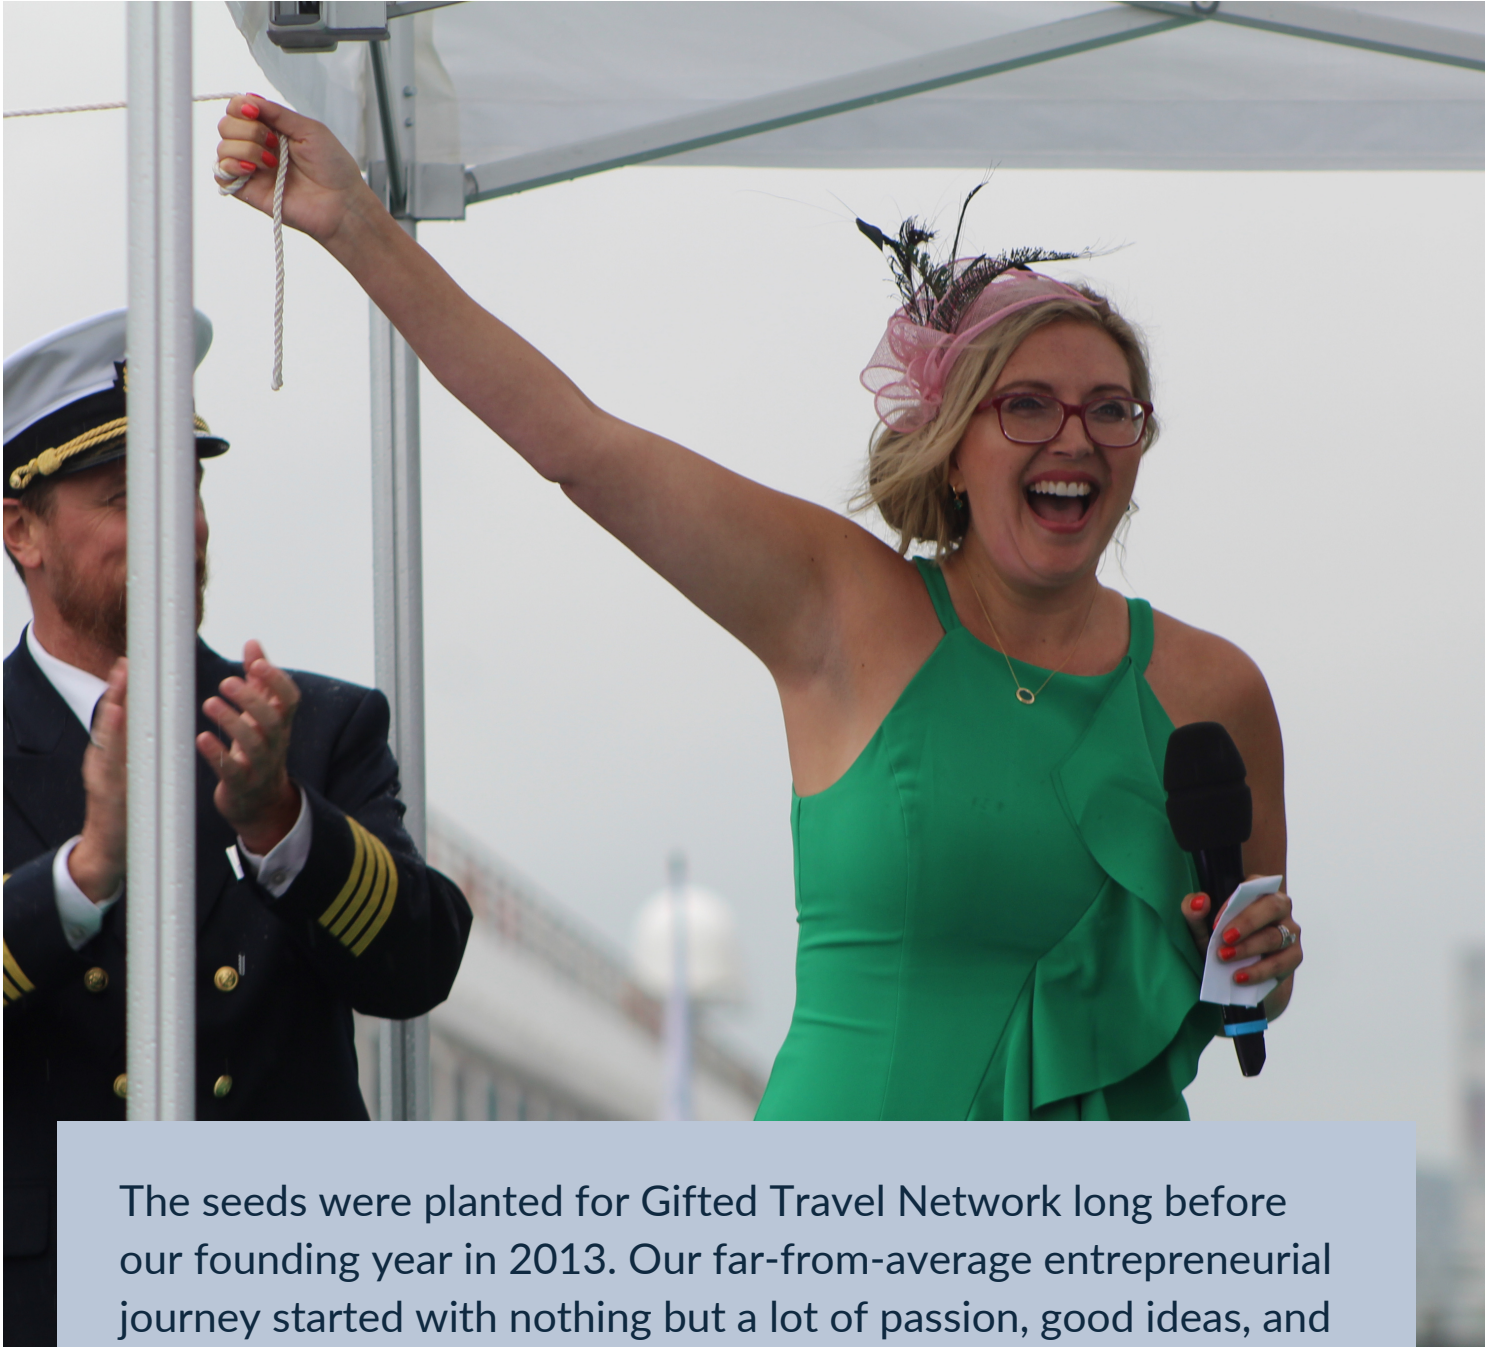

Our members bring with them wisdom and greatness that is openly shared. There is a richness in our community that is constantly tapped and this results in our members realizing far from average results. When one member wins, all members win. Our community may be driven and focused but they also know how to have fun and celebrate. There's a reason why our industry colleagues say there's something different about Gifted Travel Network advisors. The difference is our dedicated, engaged, and passionate community.

DONE RIGHT

The seeds were planted for Gifted Travel Network long before our founding year in 2013. Our far-from-average entrepreneurial journey started with nothing but a lot of passion, good ideas, and a clear vision that we could make a difference in the industry.

Since the beginning, our mission of cultivating success through travel entrepreneurship has never changed. We are educators and community builders at our core.

Our network continues to be recognized for having the most engaged, passionate, and dedicated advisors in the industry.

" The collaboration and support amongst advisors in our community is the silver bullet and goes hand in hand with the educational foundation of GTN. Imagine how much the collective mindshare benefits our clients. I was not expecting instant responses to questions or requests for advice yet opening up the browser to 7 responses in thirty minutes is common. It's another level of vetting and advocacy, but it only happens if the culture is there."

"I joined GTN and started in their Travel MBA program last year. That was hands down the best decision I could have made. I was brand new to the industry and didn't know much about it but that has all changed for the better now. One thing I LOVE about GTN, is not only do they teach you the ins and outs of the industry but they really focus on the business side of things. Being an entrepreneur and knowing how to run a successful business is just as important as learning the travel industry. The year long Travel MBA program really helped me excel and is great for all business travel experience levels. The GTN community is so supportive and helpful."
